

ART 6

COURSE MANUAL

LESSON PLANS

WORKSHEETS AND REPORT FORMS

NOTE

This lesson plan provides general instructions and course guidance, but does not provide weekly or daily assignments.

ART 6 LESSON PLAN

IntroductionCOURSE MATERIALS

Art 6 for Young Catholics

The textbook for this course, Art 6 for Young Catholics, is unique because it was written by Reed Armstrong, a world-famous sculptor, and by his wife, Roxolana Armstrong, who are well-known and respected for their contributions to art. It was written specifically for Seton Home Study School students.

Both Reed and Roxolana have been teaching Catholic children for many years, and we believe you will be pleased with their art lessons to help Catholic students.

This book is also unique because the authors encourage students to apply their artistic skills and work for the greater honor and glory of God.

Art 6 for Young Catholics contains 16 projects, divided into a total of 36 lessons.

You might consider assigning additional art projects at different times during the year. Several projects that relate to holy days are provided in the appendix at the end of this lesson plan. These additional art projects are optional.

TEACHING TIPS

Many states require students at this level to take art for about an hour a week. You might schedule art class for a Friday afternoon if your child wants to work longer.

If you are using your Teacher's Plan Book, please write under "Art" any other artwork your child may be doing in other subject areas. You may have it listed under two subjects. This integration of subjects is very popular. If your child has not finished his art project from another subject area, he may continue it during his art class time. There is no need to do a separate art assignment.

Art assignments need not be done exactly as written; rather, they are suggestions. There are many arts and crafts books available at local stores and libraries. Catholic and Christian bookstores offer arts and crafts materials related to feast days. You may find ideas in such stores to use in art class.

If you have more than one child in the Seton Home Study School program, please feel free to have them all do the same assignment or work with the same materials. In fact, they all may wish to do a project together, such as a Christmas mural. Be sure to encourage your child and display his artwork.

You may check for inexpensive materials at local stores: free scraps of colored paper at printers, wallpaper samples at paint and wallpaper stores, and colorful pieces of material at fabric stores.